Sparrow: The Night Ends Book Chat

During this Sparrow: The Night Ends, Sparrow ,a true foodie, uses that as a part of comfort while handling this dual life. She loves Grandma Liz’s southern cooking, as she has a surprise invite from Robert and Rose. In the midst of this lovely family dinner, she indulges in a standing rib roast with savory au jus gravy, accompanied by garlic mashed potatoes, creamed kale with gruyere gratin spice roasted carrots and homemade drop biscuits. And once in the sunroom, delved in mint julep tea with raspberry tea cakes. I envision the discussion of this book over brunch with rich delicious foods, accompanied with rich delightful beverages.

Chap 21: New Swirls, at his bedside. Will the night end?
